Non-Final Office Action

Acknowledgement is made of the response filed on 12/13/2005. Amendments are entered. Claims 1-8 are pending. Claims 2 and 3 are allowed at present time, others are rejected.

Claim Rejections under 35 USC § 101 and 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, is withdrawn because claims are amended.

Copending Applications

Applicants must bring to the attention of the examiner, or other Office official involved with the examination of a particular application, information within their knowledge as to other copending United States applications, which are "material to patentability" of the application in question. MPEP 2001.06(b). See Dayco Products Inc. v. Total Containment Inc., 66 USPQ2d 1801 (CA FC 2003)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.

Art Unit: 1616

3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1 and 4-8 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over GB 857,388, C2002-041978 (abstract, SUMITOMO) and US Patent 6,369,093. GB reference teaches dithia-anthracene compounds and their composition as fungicides. US Patent 6,369,093 teach pyrazolecarboxamide as fungicides, and the abstract of C2002-041978 teaches biphenyl compounds when A represents 5-membered heterocyclic group.

US '093 teaches pyrazole carboxamide as fungicides. See the entire document especially formula (1) in column 1; lines 22-64 in col. 8, lines 6-67 in column 10, examples and claims.

JP reference C2002-041978 teaches biphenyl compounds when A represents 5-membered heterocyclic group.

GB reference teaches dithiaanthracene compounds, see formula claims and I on page 1.

Art Unit: 1616

Instant claims differ from the reference in claiming synergistic combination of the two known compounds.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to prepare additional beneficial compositions by combining two known compositions. Since prior art teach "A" substituent as 5-membered heterocyclic group (substituent Z in present claim), one skilled in the art would have been motivated to combine the composition of the known compounds. It is prima facie obvious to combine two compositions each of which is taught by the prior art to be useful for the same purpose in order to form a third composition that is to be used for the very same purpose; the idea of combining them flows logically from their having been individually taught in the prior art. In re Kerkhoven, 205 USPQ 1069.

In the light of the forgoing discussion, the Examiner's ultimate legal conclusion is that the subject matter defined by the instant claims would have been obvious within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Synergistic combination

Since no data has been disclosed for the synergistic combination of dithiaanthracene and pyrazoles or any 5-membered rings the combination of dithiaanthracene and 5-membered heterocyclic compounds are considered obvious for the reasons cited above and are not allowable.

Art Unit: 1616

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2 and 3 with dithiaanthracene compound and pyridine (when Z represents Pyridine) is allowable because the synergistic data has been disclosed in the specification. Prior art cited above does not teach nor suggest synergistic combination as presently claimed.
